

What drives the electrolytic capacitor market?

The electrolytic capacitor market is largely driven by the surging demand for quality capacitors, in medical electronic, telecommunication, and automotive industries.

What is an electrolytic capacitor?

Electrolytic capacitors [ECAP] are usually polarised electrochemical capacitors that achieve very high voltage values. In contrast to ultracaps, however, their capacity is many times lower. The core of an electrolytic capacitor is the anode metal, whose roughened surface is responsible for the relatively high specific capacity.

Who are the leading players in the electrolytic capacitor market?

Some of the leading players in the global electrolytic capacitor market are Rubycon Corporation, SamYoung Electronic Co. Ltd., Vishay, Panasonic Corporation, Lelon Electronics Corp., CapXon, Aihua, Jianghai Capacitor Co., Ltd, Nippon Chemi-Con Corporation, KEMET, and Nichicon Corp.

What are electrolytic capacitors (ECAP)?

The market offers a large number of manufacturers, although only a few can offer the entire technology and value chain from a single source. Electrolytic capacitors [ECAP] are usually polarised electrochemical capacitors that achieve very high voltage values. In contrast to ultracaps, however, their capacity is many times lower.

How big is the global electrolytic capacitor market?

The global electrolytic capacitor market is estimated to create an absolute dollar opportunity of more than US$8 Bn by the end of 2032. The sales of electrolytic capacitors are expected to surpass US$7 Bn by 2022, exhibiting growth at a CAGR of 2% to 3% during the forecast period 2022-2032.

Which region will lead the global electrolytic capacitor market in 2022?
